The More We Are together

FIRST A.D.C. TALKS WITH PARISH COUNCIL

THE FIRST consultation meeting between Aycliffe Development Corporation and the Parish Council took place on Thursday, 25th January.

The meetings were proposed by the Corporation Chairman Mr Stevenson, but it is fair to say the Parish Council have shouted for many years for some sort of liaison.

An enthusiastic Mr Allan told the Newtonian this week: "These meetings are a step in the right direction and it is proper that the Council participate in broad policy matters."

The meetings will be held bi-monthly, but more regularly if required. The Parish Council representatives include Chairman Mrs Taylor, Councillors Flynn, Dormer and Conlon. The A.D.C. will be represented by Chairman Dennis Stevenson, Deputy Chairman R. D. Appleton, Councillor D. Vickers, a member of the board, and other officials.

Councillor Mrs Steele, deputising for the Chairman Mrs Taylor, looked forward with delight to the consultation. "I am hoping we can clear up a lot of points on different problems we come across as councillors and also hope something good comes from our deliberations," said Mrs Steele.

This two-way exchange of views and information can bring nothing but good. The council, armed with better information, can strengthen the link between resident and A.D.C. We look forward optimistically to a happier, co-operative relationship between the Corporation and our elected representatives.

Curate to leave.

Rev. Christopher Jackson leaves St. Clare's Church in May, after 2½ years service in Newton Aycliffe.

He is joining the company of Mission Priests and will continue his ministry in the parish of St. James, Owton Manor, Hartlepool.

Rev. Hall, the vicar, said: "He will be sadly missed by many people in the parish, not least by me."

Appointment of New J.P.

Mr R. G. Taylor of Clarence Chare, was appointed and sworn in as Justice of the Peace last week.

Mr Taylor, a resident for 20 years, is a turner at U.M.M. He is chairman of the Neville Ward Labour Party, vice-chairman of the Trades Council and a member of the local employment committee. He is also Labour candidate for the County Council election.

Mr Taylor's wife is chairman of Great Aycliffe Parish Council. They have three children, Michael 21, at college reading law; Christine 20, a nurse in a R.A.F. hospital, and Stuart 10 years old.

Mr Taylor's hobbies include car mechanics and an interest in athletics.

BUILDING WORK MOVES AHEAD

SPORTS CENTRE

Work is progressing on Stages I and II of the Sports
Centre by the Darlington RDC, who have indicated that they hope to have the building in use by 1975.

Phase 2 Dalton Way

Work has now commenced
on Phase II Dalton Way Shops and Offices which is being Je-signed to provide 14,400 sq.ft.
of office space and 18,00 sq.ft. of shopping space. The majority of this work should be completed during the forthcoming year.

PRIVATE HOUSING

Work by a speculative builder will progress on the
the comprehensive development of a site known as Byerley Park and individual plots will continue to be made available at School Aycliffe in individually designed dwelling houses. In addition to these private housing areas it is anticipated that more land will be made available adjacent to the Byerley Park Estate for the construction of a further 220 houses.

Corporation Housing

The Corporation is carrying the development of a site amounting to approximately 58 acres in the Horndale area which will accommodate 473 dwellings of from 1 to 4 storeys in height. These and various community buildings
including Church, School, Hostels and Shopping facilities, are arranged along the main pedestrian link to provide interesting vistas, incorporating existing mature trees wherever possible, and special sequences reinforced with comprehensive planting and landscaping. Despite this emphasis on pedestrianisation an ultimate car provision of 150% is envisaged (including hardstandings, etc.) and vehicular service courts are convenient to all dwellings.

In the Burnhill/Agnew area
situated on the north bank of Woodham Burn it is proposed to build houses where the design aim is to evolve
a basic form which will be capable of repetition throughout the Burnhill/Agnew area to distinguish it from the Horndale housing areas.

Enclosed within this framework are 'Cluster Blocks' of houses designed to provide a feeling of individuality and to create an interesting effect on the skyline by the use of tiled monopitch roofs.

SCHOOLS

Work has started on the construction of a Junior School adjacent to the Byerley Park private housing estate and it is anticipated that Durham County Council will start work on the construction of a new Comprehensive School in the Greenfield Way area of the town. Some of the facilities to be provided in the school will be made available to the general public for their enjoyment.

LAKES

The lakes and parkland in the western area of the town have been completed and handed over to the Parish Council. These facilities are proving a pleasant and successful amenity for the residents of the town. The Parish Council hope to construct a small car park in the area to cater for the increasing number of visitors to the park.

BUYING A HOUSE

It's not so difficult to obtain a loan for house purchase as it has been in the past. Most of the money still comes from building societies, and many of them are only too ready to lend.

That's fine but the point to watch is how you repay the loan. There are a variety of different methods - and you should choose the one which will give you the best value for money.

One of the most common methods is to make level monthly payments to the building society. Each payment consists partly of a repayment of the loan, and partly of interest on the amount still outstanding.

At the beginning, the bulk of each payment will consist of interest. Since full relief of tax can be claimed on the interest content of each payment, the net cost of this arrangement at the outset is quite low; it will increase as capital repayments are made.

With this kind of arrangement, you will also need life cover - to repay the amount of the loan outstanding at the time if you should die before the end of the mortgage term. This insurance protection is quite cheap since, as you grow older, the amount of cover under the policy diminishes - just about in step with the amount of the loan which is still outstanding.

Almost certainly, if you go to a firm of insurance brokers before approaching a building society, they will be able to devise a method of repaying a loan, linked to life insurance, which will give you better value for money.

One of the most popular methods is to arrange with the building society for the loan to be outstanding for the full term of the mortgage. You pay the interest on the full amount but claim full relief of tax on these repayments.

To repay the loan at the end of the day, a with profit endowment assurance policy is taken out so that the policy matures when the loan is due to be repaid.

There are a number of advantages to this. In the first place, the statutory relief of income tax can be claimed on the premiums. Secondly there is full cover for the amount of the loan.

Perhaps the biggest attraction is the fact that, since the policy shares in the profits of the insurance company, there should be a substantial tax free surplus for you after repaying the loan at maturity.

Nobody can forecast future profits accurately. But, in some cases the surplus (after repaying the loan) at the end of 25 years could be as much as twice the original loan.

That is a fine form of saving for the future, but it does mean that the monthly outlay is higher than with some methods.

If you are worried about that, your broker may suggest a new form of policy, which is a very good compromise and remarkably cheap.

Instead of the basic sum assured under the policy being for the amount of the loan, with all the surplus at the end being paid to you, the policy could have a sum assured which is less than the amount of the loan. This is because it is assumed that, by the time the policy matures, it will have enough bonuses added to it to pay off the loan in full—and still leave one with a surplus.

Instead, therefore, of having to wait until the end of the mortgage term to benefit from a profit-sharing policy, you have it during the mortgage term—in the form of exceptionally low overall monthly payments. And there is still the prospect of some surplus for yourself when the policy matures.

If in need of unbiased and reliable advice about insurance for house purchase, almost certainly the best plan is to go to an insurance broker, who will be able to offer guidance which is backed by knowledge and practical experience. Newton Aycliffe has E. W. Knapton (Insurance) Ltd., whose offices are above the Midland Bank.

Golden Wedding

Mr and Mrs S. Hall, parents of the Vicar of Newton Aycliffe, celebrated their Golden Wedding last week even though it was in hospital.

Mrs Hall, unfortunately, took ill before Christmas and could spend neither Christmas or Golden Wedding anniversary at home.

The hospital staff arranged it so that Mrs Hall and her family could have a special get-together on their anniversary day.

Mr and Mrs Hall received flowers and cards of congratulations from many friends.

May we add our congratulations too.

BRASS ! !

The Town Band is very active in rehearsals for various contests they are entering this year.

Over Christmas the Band played in the town centre and around the streets.

The money raised helps to keep the band supplied with instruments, music and uniforms. The members wish to express their thanks to all those who contributed.

REVISED TOWN BUS SERVICES

Bus services in Newton Aycliffe got a New Year facelift.

All United routes in and around the new town are completely revised to give better links within the town itself, particularly the new estates and to outlying areas.

More through-town services
are running and extra services for Williamsfield. There is a half-hourly link to Newcastle
from the town centre — a service people in Newton Aycliffe have been pressing for for years.

Under the revision the present services 83 and 218 will disappear and a new service 16 is to be introduced. Services 15, 46, 79 and 213 will be diverted to operate as follows:

Service 15 will operate on its present route to the town
centre, then via Stephenson Way, Williamsfield Way and on to Middridge Lane, Rushyford and then as normal.

The new service 16 will operate between Darlington and Spennymoor through Aycliffe Village, Newton Ay-
cliffe town centre, Williamsfield, Middridge Lane, Rushyford, Ferryhill, etc.

Service 46 will not run down
the old A1 but will operate via St. Cuthbert's Way, the town centre, Central Avenue, Cope-law and Rushyford. It will no longer go through Aycliffe Village.

Service 79 will be extended through the Williamsfield area
via Pease Way, Williamsfield Way and Meadowfield Way.

Service 213 to Sunderland will now operate through the centre and through Williamsfield instead of Central Avenue.

SPECIAL OFFER TO ALL MEN

(Who are Single)

A short while ago I told a lady friend who runs a charity organisation that I would like to get married and have my own family, but I have had no luck in meeting anyone in my age group (I'm 34) and could she advise me as to the best places to go to where I might meet someone. She told me to write to a marriage bureau and gave me a list of some.

At first I didn't like the idea, but then I thought, I've got nothing to lose, so I wrote to them all and they promptly replied, but the fees they quoted put me right off.

One wanted £25 joining fee plus £25 for first introduction another £8 for every six months you are on their list.

Another wanted £5.25 for every six months. Another £7.50 registration fee, for which you get a list of names and addresses, then £10 when you get married, also £15 membership fee for special service selection.

Last week I got another letter from this one saying that at the moment there is a great demand for gents between the ages of 25-70, so I am offering you an opportunity to join at a reduced fee of £3.50 and a special half-price offer of the usual fee for marriage.

My first thought was, "Crums, special offer of the week — women half-price."

If there is such a demand for men how come I haven't found anyone that I could love? I must be going to the wrong places at the wrong times.

With the lack of dance halls with proper dance bands it is difficult for my age group to meet the opposite sex.

Opportunities for young teenagers and over 60s appear to be well catered for but nothing for the single people in between.

If any single or widowed lady, with or without children, is looking for a man, I'd like to hear from her.

Mr C. C. C. R. Palmer,
2 Bewick Crescent,
Newton Aycliffe.

(This paragraph was taken from one of the brochures.)

Gentleman — How much nicer to be greeted by the woman you love! — a warm home! — the pleasant odour of a tasty meal being prepared for you. All these comforts just make life worth living. Now that the long dark evenings lie ahead we have the ladies who still long to do all this for the man they love. Don't let opportunities slip by!

Youth Division for T T Players

10 Teesdale Avenue, Darlington.

Dear Editor,

Over the last year or so, thanks to the efforts of the newly-formed Durham County Schools Table Tennis Association, hundreds of children in Newton Aycliffe now play table tennis in school. Many of these children require facilities to apply their newly-learned skills competitively.

However it is only natural that these youngsters should be apprehensive about joining the Aycliffe Table Tennis League as this caters for mainly adult players.

The Aycliffe League have therefore decided to form a Youth Division for only those boys and girls under the age of 16 who do not already play in the League. The Division will start in February with probably eight teams of four players each (boys and/or girls) all playing on one night each week at a suitable venue in the town provided and supervised by league officials.

This method of playing all the matches on one night at the same venue will relieve school teachers of the necessity to supervise matches on school premises after school hours.

It is hoped that this competition will provide a "stepping-stone" for young players between school table tennis and playing in the Aycliffe League proper when they leave school. Any interested players or teams from schools or youth organisations in the town should contact League Secretary John Masson (Darlington 65732) or Chairman Bob Applegarth (Aycliffe 2217) as soon as possible.

Yours faithfully,

JOHN MASSON
(Joint Hon. Sec.
Aycliffe T.T. League).

TO ALL HARRY'S FRIENDS

It is very difficult to express the pride and help I have been given in the past few weeks by all the people who have contacted me on hearing the news of my husband's death. Harry very obviously made his mark in Newton Aycliffe and it has helped to know that all the personal free time he devoted to his work, has been so fully appreciated. I was often jealous that we at home did not see much of him but the children and I now know that this time was not spent in vain.

Thank you all,

MOLLIE ROBINSON.
